

To Whom it May Concern:

Parents are legally, emotionally and financially responsible for the lives of their children. This responsibility lasts until the child is the age of 18 years. If a parent is to be responsible for the emotional life of the child, then it is curtail to be involved in any decision, parents need to know. Anything less is a disservice to the minor child and a violation of parental rights.

This was found on www.supremecourt.gov/ParentalRights in the Supreme Court of the United States. In the case Washington v. Glucksberg, 521 U.S. 702 (1997), the constitution and more specifically, the due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment, protects the fundamental rights of parents to direct the care, upbringing, and educations of their children.

Nearly one hundred years ago, the Supreme Court acknowledged that “the child is not the mere creature of the State: those who nurture him and direct his destiny have the right, couple with the high duty, to recognize and prepare him for additional obligations.”

From Pierce v. Society of Sisters, 268 U.S. 510 (1925). Also, the Supreme Court affirmed the fundamental rights of parents “in companionship, care, custody, and management” of their children, from Stanley v. Illinois, 405 U.S. 645 (1972)

The same year, in Wisconsin v. Yoder, 406 U.S. 205 (1972), the Court declared that “[t]his primary role of the parents in the upbringing of their children is now established beyond debate as an enduring American tradition.”

So, I repeat myself: Parents are legally, emotionally and financially responsible for the lives of their children. Let the school share in the entirety of what is transpiring at the school, from social emotional learning to gender issues.

THE PARENTS HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE INFORMED.

END OF STORY

NOTE: ANY LAW PASSED MUST BE IN AGREEMENT WITH THE U.S. CONSTITUTION. Any law that does not agree it is NULL and VOID on its face. Make sure you educate yourself, question and challenge. Many “so-called” laws need to just be challenged by We The People!
